

New Bill Will Help Species Imperiled by Climate Change

Tuesday, October 23, 2007

Scientists, members of faith organizations and environmentalists are joining forces around the moral and practical imperative to help species that are in trouble due to global warming.

Read the press release from EarthJustice.
